

Hans Rosenberg Article Prize

The Central European History Society (CEHS) awards the biennial Hans Rosenberg Article Prize, which recognizes the best English-language article or essay on central European history written by a permanent resident of North America. The Society solicits nominations from authors, editors, presses, and third parties for the best article or essay published in 2017 or 2018. The prize committee will consider journal articles as well as individual essays from anthologies or collections. Re-printed essays are not eligible. Articles and essays published outside North America are, of course, eligible. Central European history is understood to include the history of Germany, Austria, and other German-speaking regions of Central Europe, from the medieval era to the present. The award will be announced at the annual meeting of the American Historical Association in New York City, on 4 January 2020.

Nominations received by 15 July, 2019 will receive full consideration. Please send nominations as PDFs to each member of the committee:

Prof. Jason Coy
College of Charleston
CoyJ@cofc.edu

Prof. Stephen Gross
New York University
stephengross@nyu.edu

Prof. Willeke Sandler
Loyola University Maryland
wsandler@loyola.edu

For further information see www.centraleuropeanhistory.org

Questions? Please contact the committee or Benjamin Marschke, CEHS Director, at marschke@humboldt.edu