

Kindertransport and Sebald: 25th Anniversary Special Review Issue Workshop
Sponsored by Central European History

Online Workshop
Saturday, September 5, 2026

Participants: Amy Williams, Association of Jewish Refugees; Maya Barzilai, University of Michigan; John Greenacre, University of Suffolk; Mark Edwards, University of Suffolk
Moderators: Eli Rubin, Western Michigan University; Mike Sauter, University of Suffolk
Graduate Assistant: Chrystina Ochsankohl, Western Michigan University

Schedule (all times in US Eastern Time; British time + 5 hours)

Workshop will be open to public audience upon registration

9:30 am: introductory remarks (Eli Rubin and Mike Sauter)

Session I: Paper Presentations

- 9:40-10: Amy Williams
- 10-10:20: John Greenacre
- 10:20-10:50: discussion & questions from workshop participants, moderators, and audience

10:50-11: Break

- 11-11:20: Maya Barzilai
- 11:20-11:50: Mark Edwards
- 11:50-12:20: discussion & questions from workshop participants, moderators, and audience

30-minute break

Session II: Dialogue

- 12:50-1: Initial thoughts and questions-Eli Rubin and Mike Sauter
- 1-2 open discussion on the importance and place of the Kindertransport, Sebald, and the traces of memory and history in East Anglia and beyond
- 2-2:15: closing thoughts and remarks (Mike Sauter & Eli Rubin)